Green Screen Series & Eco Film Forum

Coeur d' Alene Library, 702 E. Front Ave, Coeur d' Alene, Id - Community Room (Room 116)

Saturday, April 4 from 2:00pm - 4:00pm

Join us for the Green Screen Series & Eco Film Forum, a thought provoking and audience engaging event series hosted by Kootenai Environmental Alliance. Each month, we'll share an environmental based film to provide insight and start a conversation about how to approach these topics locally. This month, we will be watching Merchants of Doubt, a documentary exposing how professional pundits and contrarian scientists, acting as "experts," use disinformation tactics to cast doubt on scientific consensus. Inspired by the book of the same name by Naomi Oreskes and Erik M. Conway, it traces how methods used to obscure the dangers of tobacco were adapted by special interests to delay action on climate change. Our panelists will include Marina Steiner, a PhD candidate in Environmental Science who traveled to the Aural Sea last year to hear firsthand from community members about the impact of climate change and government denials regarding environmental degradation.

Fishing Magician

Dave Baughman "The Outdoor Insider"

I was out and about this past weekend and I saw anglers everywhere I went. There was great turnout for the Quincy Chamber of Commerce Trout Derby on Burke and Quincy lakes, and I saw a lot of fly fishers on Lake Lenore and Dry Falls Lake on my way up to Coulee Dam. The parking lot was packed with trucks and trailers at the Northrup launch on Banks Lake.

I visited the Quincy Wildlife Area on Saturday to see how the annual Quincy Valley Chamber of Commerce Trout Derby was going. I saw one of the biggest crowds I had ever seen at Quincy and Burke lakes. There were all manner of motor homes, trailers, campers and tents set up everywhere. There were boats all over both of the lakes and people at most of the shore accesses as well. I talked to several anglers, and they reported that the fishing on Friday was very good with lots of big rainbow landed. Fishing was slower on Saturday, but people were enjoying the day. It started out cloudy and chilly but warmed up and the skies cleared later in the day. Once again, the Quincy Chamber had amassed a huge number of prizes and thanks to a generous donation from the Quincy Valley Medical Center it looked like every child would get a rod and reel. The results of the derby will be posted on the Quincy Chamber Facebook page. While I was there, I checked on the boat ramp at the top end of Evergreen Reservoir. The water is up and a small boat had launched, but there was a lot of debris in the water. A recent wind had pushed it up against that shore. This week's photo is of the mass of prizes that were handed out at the Quincy Derby.

I wanted to do a video and to do it on the water. The Quincy Wildlife Area would be a good place, and Tom Vershueren came along with me. Tom and I had fished for bass on Evergreen Reservoir a few times, but he had never fished for trout on the other lakes. As we entered the Wildlife Area, I pointed out Stan Coffin and H lakes and even showed him the trailhead and view of Dusty Lake. At Quincy Lake I used a casting bubble and fly and gave Tom a Lil Jake lure. We had no success and we pushed on to Burke Lake. I tried casting near the handicapped platform and Tom walked out on the dock at the boat launch. While I didn't get a sniff, Tom had a couple of trout chase his lure and even landed a couple of one-pounders. I took a shot of the boat launch at Evergreen and then we drove to Martha Lake where Tom landed another fish. We ended the tour at Caliche Lake were we didn't get a bite. Tom was amazed at how many great lakes were so close to Quincy.

One of the lakes in our region that gets less attention that it deserves, in my opinion, is Omak Lake, on the Colville Indian Reservation. I have been fishing this big, beautiful lake for about 30 years. Although I have had feature stories published in magazines and posted numerous reports and photos of my trips to Omak, I am often the only boat on the lake when fishing there. In April last year a friend and I traveled there to inspect the condition of the boat launch on Nicholson Beach. It has always been very rough and the boat I was driving that season was much larger than usual. It didn't take long to determine that there was no way I was going to put the boat, which was 23 feet long overall, in the lake at this launch. In the short time we were there we watched a group of fly fishers casting from the shore, land fish. It reminded me that the big Lahontan cutthroat that inhabit the lake cruise close to the shore in the spring. Casting spoons and spinners works very well. Tribal permits and licenses are required to fish this lake, and others on the reservation.

With the mild weather we had this winter I am thinking that some spring fisheries will blossom earlier than usual this year. One could be the bass fishing on Moses Lake. In past years I spent very little time fishing for bass, as I was focused on the walleye fishing. So, when I dedicated some time to the bass fishing the results were very impressive. I got an assignment to do a video on the bass fishing on Moses Lake. I tried a couple of areas that I really hadn't explored before. One of those spots was the reef I had talked about in earlier reports and shared its location with a photograph. I had anticipated catching some smallmouth on that reef but didn't expect to get as many largemouth as we did. The nearest launch to reach this reef is Connelly Park. The same day my friends and I fished around Gaileys Island at the other end of the lake. This also produced both big smallmouth and largemouth bass. We were casting Brush Hogs and lizards to the shore at Gaileys and on the reef where we started. I am very excited to get out on Moses Lake for some pre-spawn bass fishing!

Looking back a year ago, I came across a photo of my fishing buddy Dennis Beich with a nice rainbow he landed on Rufus Woods Reservoir. This is usually the time of year that the Colville Tribe makes releases of triploids into Rufus. We hit the reservoir right after there had been a release of thousands of them. I launched at the middle net pens and then ran up a ways and watched my depth sounder until I found a good mass of fish on the screen. We tied on either marabou jigs or plastics, pinched the barbs down and had a blast catching and releasing trout. I got a notice that indicated that the releases have begun, and that as many as 25,000 were released recently. The average weight of the trout was just over a pound, which I believe is smaller than many of the previous plants. This is just one of several plants that the tribe typically does in the spring. Some of the releases are of a smaller number but of much larger fish. I have announced a derby that is being conducted by the tribe, and these releases should spark interest in participating.

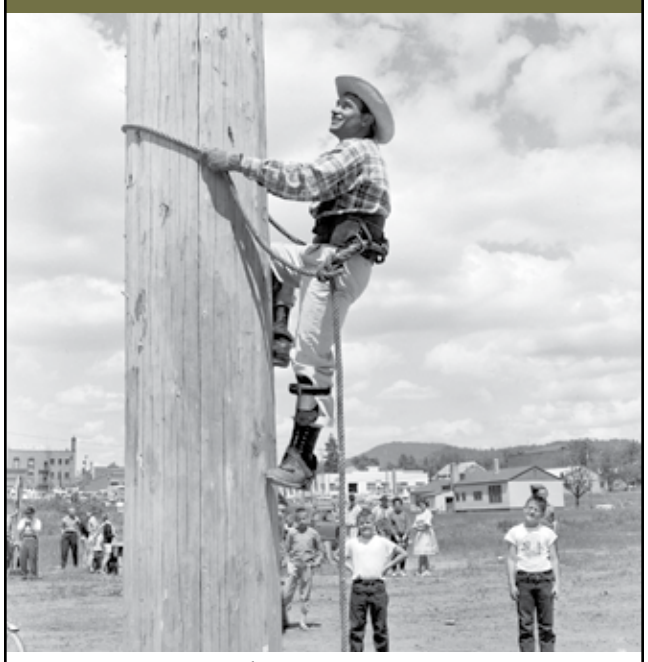
HISTORIC PHOTOS of IDAHO PANHANDLE



Forest Festival

During the early 1950s there was a strong interest in creating some kind of event, or series of events, that would recognize the importance of the forest industry in North Idaho. An organizational meeting was held on February 8, 1955. Representatives from several lumber companies were in attendance. They all agreed that a forest festival should be held every spring. This was the beginning of the Coeur d'Alene Forest Festival. The first Forest Festival week in Coeur d'Alene was during the week of April 25, 1955. There were a variety lumberjack contests, a parade, decorated store windows, featured articles in the Coeur d'Alene Press and presentations at various civic clubs. The North Idaho Hoo Hoo Club, an organization with a strong interest in the timber industry, organized the annual event. One of the most popular events at the festival was the pole climbing contests. The photo above shows Danny Sailor climbing a pole during the 1962 Forest Festival.

MEET WHIRLEY, A SPUNKY PUP WITH THE PERFECT MIX OF
Playful energy & laid back charm. While she can get adorably high energy when she's excited, Whirley is generally a pretty chill companion who's happy to hang out with her people. She loves going on walks and is a great leash buddy. When it's time to relax, Whirley is happily crate trained & will often choose to go into her crate on her own for a cozy nap or to play with a toy. Whirley has a wonderfully silly personality and keeps things entertaining with her playful antics. She's a big fan of chew toys and enjoys the occasional stuffie she can toss around. She loves to fetch and will happily carry her tennis ball to her bed for rest time when she's done. She already knows simple commands like sit and down and would love to continue training if there are treats involved. She loves being near her people but is also great at entertaining herself, making her a wonderful balance of affectionate and independent. Whirley is the kind of dog who brings joy, laughs, and a little extra wiggle wherever she goes. While she's great with people, Whirley isn't totally sure how to act around other animals and would likely do best as the only animal in the home. Whirley is 2 years old, about 40lbs, fixed, vaccinations up to date, microchipped & ready for her forever family, adoption fee is $200. For more pictures go to www.TheFurryFarmRescue.org and complete an adoption application, or if you have questions, please call 509-230-6540

Guess Who?
I am an actress born in Florida on April 2, 2002. One of my earliest roles was in the television series "The Glades," and I've had a few roles in films. These days I can be found "wolfing out" in a popular Netflix series opposite my macabre roommate.

PALOU DOMINATES TO WIN IN ANOTHER BARBER BEATDOWN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (Sunday, March 29, 2026) – Alex Palou appears to be running wild again after another dominant victory at Barber Motorsports Park.

Four-time and defending NTT INDYCAR SERIES champion Palou earned his second victory in four races this season in the No. 10 DHL Chip Ganassi Racing Honda, starting from the pole and winning the Children's of Alabama Indy Grand Prix powered by AmFirst by 13.2775 seconds over the No. 7 Arrow McLaren Chevrolet of Christian Lundgaard.

Palou led 79 of the 90 laps on the 17-turn, 2.3-mile road course.

"Incredible day," Palou said. "I told you qualifying was one of the best car balances I've ever driven. Today in the race, it was pretty good in the beginning, really good at the end, but we suffered a little bit on the used blacks (Firestone Firehawk primary tires) that we had to use.

Graham Rahal placed third in the No. 15 First Third Bank Honda fielded by Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing, his first podium finish since August 2023 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway road course.

"I felt like this was coming," Rahal said. "We're pretty pleased with this. Feels good."

David Malukas continued his consistent start to his Team Penske tenure by finishing fourth in the No. 12 Verizon Team Penske Chevrolet. Malukas has placed sixth or better in three of his four starts with the fabled team this season.

Series leader Kyle Kirkwood rounded out the top five finishers – all from different teams – in the No. 27 JM Bullion/Gold.com Honda of Andretti Global.

The next NTT INDYCAR SERIES race is the Acura Grand Prix of Long Beach on Sunday, April 19.

PIT STRATEGY CALL DELIVERS CHASE ELLIOTT VICTORY AT MARTINSVILLE | By HOLLY CAIN, NASCAR Wire Service

MARTINSVILLE, Va. – (March 29, 2026) Good pit strategy and a highly-motivated team rallied Hendrick Motorsports' Chase Elliott to the NASCAR Cup Series victory Sunday in the Cook Out 400 at Martinsville Speedway; the sport's reigning Most Popular Driver delivering Chevrolet its first win of the season all to the delight of a huge enthusiastic crowd at the historic half-miler.

Elliott short-pitted on lap 261 to gain track position then moved his No. 9 Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet into the lead for good after a restart with 68 laps remaining – ultimately out-running the day's most dominant driver, Joe Gibbs Racing's Denny Hamlin to the checkered flag by .565-second to extend the Hendrick team's track record win total to 31 victories.

"It was definitely a team effort, how about that, that was awesome," said Elliott, the 2020 NASCAR Cup Series champion, who made his very first NASCAR Cup Series start at Martinsville exactly 11 years ago to the day.

"We've never had a win this early in the season," Elliott said, adding,

"Sure is a lot of fun when days like this work out."

Elliott, 30, of Dawsonville, Ga., said he had been confident in the car's speed all weekend and on Sunday, just needed that clutch pit call to get up front and seize the chance.

Hamlin's No. 11 JGR Toyota led a race-best 292 of the 400 laps and for much of the afternoon looked to absolutely run away with his seventh grandfather clock trophy. But after Elliott got out front, Hamlin was playing catch-up and never really was able to get close enough to attempt a pass in the closing laps as the leaders navigated lapped traffic.

Team Penske's Joey Logano rebounded from a rough 33rd-place outing last week at Darlington, S.C. to finish third Sunday – equaling his best showing of the season in the No. 22 Ford.

The season's four-time race winner Tyler Reddick finished 15th but still holds a massive 82-point advantage over Blaney and is 94 points ahead of Hamlin atop the NASCAR Cup Series standings. Reddick's 23XI Racing teammate Bubba Wallace, who finished 36th after triggering a 12-car accident on lap 325, dropped from third place to 11th in the standings.

The NASCAR Cup Series takes the first of the season's two off-weeks next weekend before resuming competition April 12 in the Food City 500 at Bristol Motor Speedway. Larson is the defending Bristol Spring race winner.

Coeur d' Alene Library, 702 E. Front Ave - Coeur d' Alene, Id. Gozzer Conference Room (Room 132)

Thursday, April 2nd from 4:00pm - 6:00pm

The Library is partnering with the Idaho Volunteer Lawyers Program (IVLP) to provide resources for low-income individuals and families in Idaho who require civil legal services and cannot afford to pay for them. Although they are unable to assist with criminal issues or fee generating cases, these free legal clinics are an opportunity to receive advice and counseling from local attorneys who volunteer their time and expertise. While everyone is always welcome at the library, this event is intended for adults. Registration is required and must be done at least 24 hours before the clinic https://laserfiche.isb.Idaho.gov/Forms/ClinicReg
